The Faithful Bank Cashier.

[A dispatch from Northfield, Minnesota, states that at two o'cleck on the afternoon of the 6th Sept. eight mounted robbers rode up to the bank. Three of them dismounted, entered, sprang over the counter, and ordered the cashier, Mr. J. E. Haywood, to open the vault. Although a knife was held to his throat, he refused to obey. The robbers then shot him through the head; the assistant cashier was wounded, but succeeded in cacaping. The alarm was at once given, the citizens collected and attacked the band, two of whom were killed, after which the others made their escape. Owing to the beroism of Mr. Haywood, nothing was lost.]

Unto how few the fideless bays Belong ! How few the icon crown Of virtue wear! And few the lave That bear a héro's honor down Untarnished to the latest days !

Yet there was one but now who breathed Faithful to trust, and in that hour Summoned he laid down life, bequeathed-To all good men his good deed's power, And with great names his name enreathed.

For tell me not his place was low, His sterling voice till then unheard He knew and dared to answer " No !" Whole volumes spoke in that one word, And duty could no further go.

Not often on war's glorious field Or in the gaze of favoring men Does duty call, but when the shield Of secrecy protects, or when Our dearest hopes to her must yield; Not often does the martyr gain

By sacrifice his righteous fame --And this man knew it, stood the strain Of silent trial. He prized the name Of truth, and kept it free from stain. If he betrayed not, death was sure ;

Before him stood the murderous thiel :-He did not flinch. * * Of one life fewer The angels turned the blood-scaled leaf That night, and said : "The page is pure." O simple faith and loyalty ! . If each true heart like this were strong

The nation's ancient mojesty Would rise again with joyous song, Her beauty shine o'er every sea!

Sitting Bull is not much of a fiddler. His brother Ole is the man for that sort of business. -Rochester Democrat.

Soliloquy by a tippler-The public always notices you when you have been drinking, and never when you are thirsty, One of the city dentists is put down in the directory as a dealer in molasses, possibly because he produces sorghum. One of the earliest printers on record is said to have been the Emperor Trajan, who set up column in Rome. It is singular how early in life a child gains the reputation of resembling its richest and best-looking relations. A clergyman in Exeter, England, addressed a meeting of licensed victuallers as "Christian friends," and he had to wait for them to have their laugh out. Rain-in-the-Face was present in the battle of the Rosebud, but where were Old-Man-Afraid-of-His-Hat and Pull-Down-Your-Vest in that engagement? A western paper coarsely calls the Chinese immigrant a beat. Regarding him as a vegeta-

They were talking of a death, when one man asked: "What were his last words?" "He didn't say anything," was the reply. "That's just like him," said the first man, with an approving nod. "There was no gas about him. He was all business."

"Clarence, you've got a real kind heart," gratefully observed a young lady on the cars to a sallow-faced youth as he dropped a prize package of pop-corn in her lap. "Yes' Mary, my heart's all right,' he sadly replied, "what I want is a new liver."—Brooklyn Argus.

It is said that if a man is walking for health and enjoyment, four miles an hour is the best gait. This may be true as regards health, but for enjoyment we remember one night when it took us four hours to walk a mile. It happened, however, that the old folks had gone to camp meeting, and she had the night key, and, as far as health was concerned, we really didn't care if it took all night .- Norwich Bulletin.

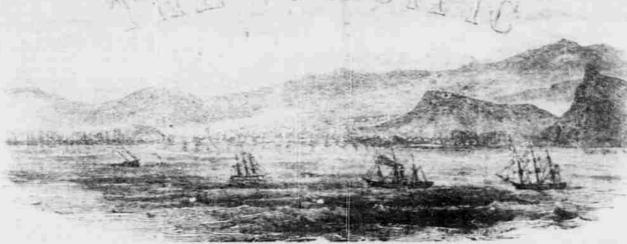

SHE BACKED OUT .- It was a dark night. There was a long ladder. The boat was moored near the wharf. The stalwart young man rowed beautifully. But she changed her mind in the midule of the river and insisted upon returning to her father. He emplored her to keep her promise; he wept; he vowed. Sentiment went to waste; he had to back water. They returned to Wilmington, Del. at daybreak, and there stood an old man with a shot-gun on his shoulder. "Papa," she said, "we've had such a nice ride on the

They were fond of each other, very, and had been engaged. But they quarreled and were too proud to make it up. He called a few days ago at her father's house-to see the old gentleman on business, of course. She answered his ring at the door bell. Said be, "Ab, Miss-, , believe; is your father within ?"

"No, sir." she replied; "pa is not in at present. Did you wish to see him personally?" CONTINUES HIS OLD BUSINESSIN THE "Yes, miss," was his bluff response, feeling that she was yielding, "on very particular personal business," and he proudly turned to go

"I beg your pardon," she called after him as he struck the lower step, "but who"shall I say called?" He never smiled again.

THE omnibus was the other day quite full of undergraduates returning to their respective colleges. The day was wet, cold and miserable. "Have you any room for one inside for Oxford?" asked as pretty a girl as one would wish to see on a summer's day, -"Lots of room," cried the insides. "We are not very large, we can manage to take one more." The fare was paid by the young lady, cautiously to bind the con-tract.—"All right," responded the conductor.— "Come along, grandfather!" cried the damsel, addressing a most respectable-looking, portly, elderly gentleman; "the money is paid-get in, and be sure you thank the gentlemen;" at the same time suiting the action to the word, and, with a wicked smile, assisting her respected grandfather into the omnibus .- "Here's some mistake! you'll squeeze us to death!" cried the astonished insides. But at that moment off went the omnibus, and he, instead of she, settled down penderously between two of them.
